As a mother you recognize that raising boys is a challenge.
How do you uniquely raise your sons so they become responsible, mature men?

In this workshop, we will explore the following topics:

• The key mission for raising boys
• The gift and blessing that only a mother can be for her son
• How boys are "just different"
• Important principles to remember when raising boys
• Looking at boys from a dad's perspective

This informative workshop will discuss your important role as mom (and how it is different than dad's role), as well as look at essential principles and specific tools you need to carry out your mission.
