

The Essential 55: Summer Camp

This camp is based on the life skills mentioned in Ron Clark's book , The Essential 55. (Fatima has recently adopted some of these skills to help prepare students to be successful when they leave us.) We will cover topics such as how to have conversations with people you just met, how to respectfully dine, in a fine restaurant, or in your home, and other guidelines for living and interacting with others. Each day will end with the students being put in real-world situations which require them to use the skills learned. A snack will be provided.
